

What is inkjet?

Inkjet printers are the most common type of printing devices, which are used as inexpensive home printers as well as in large industrial machines. They produce digital copies by spraying ink onto the paper.

The heart of an inkjet printer is the printhead, containing thousands of tiny microscopic nozzles firing ink onto the substrate. These droplets are typically 3-5 picolitres small, which creates a raster free, photo quality print image.

Combined with a super precise moving mechanism this results in millions of droplets fired every second. Once the droplet touches the substrate a binding effect will take place between the special designed ink and the inkjet coating, delivering stunning, crisp clear, high contrast, waterproof and faderesistant colour prints.

Beside the standard dye-based ink, which is perfect for any type of media with inkjet coating, we offer for most systems a pigment ink in combination with matte surfaces to get a much higher UV-resistance for outdoor use.

DTM Print is frequently evaluating the market to offer the latest and best technology available in the inkjet market. To produce exceptional product labels for all kind of applications you not only need advanced print technology but also high-quality materials. Inkjet substrates can include matte, semi-gloss and high-gloss materials in paper and polyester as well as special materials like silver, gold or holographic.

Key end-user sectors for booming inkjet printing market

Low maintenance

Gone are the days of clogged nozzles and unwieldy and expensive printhead replacements. Users get a brand new printhead each time they change the cartridge, simplifying maintenance and dramatically lowering on-going operating costs. With a simple swap-out of ink cartridges, LX600e can print with dye-based ink or pigment ink. Both types of ink work interchangeably on the same printer.
